JUNE COURT DAY

Will Be Made a Banner Day—Many Features are Being Planned For That Day.

Maysville is planning a number of extra features for Stoel Sales on Court Day, June 3. Prof. C. S. Duley of the High School is chairman of the Boy's Working Reserve and he has planned a big parade.

Arrangements are being made for a band, boys listed in Working Reserve to parade in working clothes, farmers making application for boys to ride in autos, tractors and farm implements in parade and some of the boys driving the farm implements.

Mason county has created quite a reputation for having a fine stock yard and peas, good water for cattle and good market prices for cattle.

June Court will no doubt be a banner day as many folks from adjoining counties will be in attendance.

The friends of Mr. L. G. Mithly were glad to see him in Maysville on Monday, but regretted that he is on crutches. Mr. Mithly has been suffering very much with a badly bruised hip which still gives him considerable trouble. Mr. Mithly's buggy was demolished on May 13 by a speeding automobile on East Fourth street. It is time this unlawful driving on the public highway should be stopped.

HEAR Captain Harris of the English Army and Hon. W. D. Cochran at the Opera House Thursday at 1:15 p.m.

PRIZES AWARDED

By Muson County Health League For the Largest Pile of Unburnable Rubbish in Each Ward.

The six prizes offered by the Mason County Health League for the boy and girl collecting the largest pile of unburnable rubbish at their home in each ward during clean-up week have been awarded.

Crecks are awaiting the following boys and girls at the Chamber of Commerce: Ella Foster, Beulah Yazzell, John Fryman, Charles Shulius and John Mahoney.

This part of the clean-up campaign program was voted a decided success by the committee and they feel stimulated the efforts very much. The committee desire to take this opportunity to thank the Mason County Health League for this financial contribution, also the daily press for the splendid support they rendered during the campaign.

HE'S AN EARNEST GARDNER

One of the most attractive war gardeners in this vicinity is being exhibited by Mr. Ernest Gardner at Penn 33. Mr. Gardner combines the utilitarian with aesthetic principles, as his little plot of ground containing useful vegetables is bordered by beautiful flowers of variegated hues.

McADOO FIRES ALL RAILROAD PRESIDENTS

SENSATIONAL STEP COMES LIKE THUNDER CLAP — FEDERAL DIRECTORS UNDER McADOO WILL OPERATE THE LINES — SOME PRESIDENTS MAY BE NAMED DIRECTORS OF REDUCED PAY.

Washington, May 21—Every railroad president in the United States was relieved from active duty as executive manager of his road today by Director-General McAdoo, who will appoint a federal director for each road, responsible only to the railroad administration. In some cases, the president of the road may be named federal director.

To safeguard the interests of stockholders and maintain the individuality of each railway, federal directors whenever possible will be appointed from among the operating officials of the property, the Director-General announced. This will avoid disrupting any road's working organization necessarily.

As another step in the reorganization of railroad management the Director-General ordered the creation of two new operating districts—the Allegheny region, consisting of the principal trunk lines east of Pittsburgh, excluding the New York Central, managed by C. H. Markham, now regional director for the south, and the Pocahontas district, consisting of the east and west trunk lines terminating at Hampton Roads.

Regional directors for the Pocahontas district and the Southern district to succeed Mr. Markham will be appointed soon. A. H. Smith, at New York, will continue to act as regional director for that part of the east not included in the new Allegheny district and district directors will be named to serve under him as supervisors of roads in New England and for the section between Pittsburgh and the Mississippi River and north of the Ohio River.

Other smaller operating districts will be created from time to time in the southern and western regions, now operated as units by regional directors.

The first act of the Director-General today in executing this new policy was the removal of C. W. Huntington, president of the Virginian railway, as chief operating officer, on the charge that he failed to carry out promptly the railroad administration's instructions regarding the repair and maintenance of his line. This was thought to be the forerunner of similar deposition of a number of other railroad presidents, but announcement of the plan for wholesale replacement of railway presidents by federal directors came as a general surprise at this time.

FIFTY-ONE MAYSVILLE BOYS WILL LEAVE THIS AFTERNOON

This afternoon fifty-one of Maysville and Mason county's most promising young men will leave for Fort Thomas and from there to training camps to prepare to link the Kaiser for us.

It would be a fitting send off and no more than right that the town should turn out en masse to wish these boys Godspeed this afternoon, giving them a farewell handshake and let them know we are backing them for a victorious finish.

The Mite Society of the M. E. Church, South, will meet Wednesday afternoon promptly at 1 o'clock in the church parlor to sew for the Belgian orphans. All the ladies of the church are earnestly requested to help in this worthy cause. Quite a number of garments have been made by the society but many more are needed.

GERMAN SHOCK TROOPS

Pushed Against Lines—Believe Yesterday's Attack on 1,200 Yard Front Was Real Opening Offensive.

London, May 21—German shock troops went down to defeat this morning in the first large scale infantry attack they have essayed on the Flanders front since their abortive effort to turn Ypres. After the most violent artillery preparation, strong forces flung themselves against the new British positions Northwest of Merkville, near the nose of the German-Flanders wedge, the attack being on a front of 1200 yards and launched in the direction of Hazebrouck, one of the railway gates to the channel coast.

At only two points were Zouave troops able to reach the British position and there they were either cut to pieces or driven to precipitate flight. "Our whole line remains intact," Haig announced in his night bulletin.

Last night an attack of less strength and importance was delivered against the French north of Bailleul. It broke down under the French artillery and machine gun fire. British troops early today took prisoners in the raid near Bailleul.

While it is perhaps too much to say that the great western battle line has resumed, all indications tonight were that the great German attack above Merkville marked the re-opening of the kaiser's offensive. Some experts believe that it was in the nature of a feaver on a major scale and that similar attacks in the various vital sectors will be undertaken. The enemy is trying to gauge the allied strength and disposition before launching his main blow.

The Berlin war office today tells a glowing story of complete victory over the French on the Kemmel front, asserting that yesterday's attack on the important Flanders height broke down with heavy losses. By way of admitting that some headway was made by the assailants the statement does, however say that there is still "a French nest" east of Loker. The impression here tonight was that Berlin was making mountain out of mole hill since there was nothing said or written either here or in Paris yesterday indicating a serious attack on Kemmel height.

RED CROSS

Short-Horn Sale Mason County Court Day, Monday, June 3.

The short-horn breeders of Lewis and Mason counties, Kentucky, and Brown and Adams counties, Ohio, have generously contributed sufficient funds to purchase seven registered short-horn heifers and one bull, from eight to fourteen months old.

These animals were selected with great care from the best herds and are all that could be wished in individuality and pedigree. They were purchased by the best judges and are intended to serve as foundation stock for those who wish the very best of short-horns.

These animals are clean in every particular, tuberculin tested and ready to be shipped anywhere on the American Continent.

It has been decided to hold the sale of these animals at Maysville, Ky., Monday, June 3, 1918, (Mason County Court Day) at 1 p.m. The entire gross proceeds of the sale will be donated to the Auerenn Red Cross in the above four counties. The breeders give all the money necessary for the purchase of these animals and for all expenses incident to their collection, preparation and sale. Mr. H. C. Hawkins has donated his services as auctioneer.

The individuality and merit of these animals will commend them to the most critical buyers. When to the fact of their excellence is added the generous purpose of their sale it is expected that they will bring a large amount of money to the Red Cross War Fund.

Hon. M. J. Hennessey of Augusta, was in the city yesterday on legal business.

RURAL MEMBERSHIP IS SOUGHT

The officers and directors of the Chamber of Commerce have arranged for a drive for rural membership on next Wednesday, May 29th. The organization has done much good work for the entire county and the officers and directors feel that it is entitled to the financial support of the rural neighbors.

They plan to organize a rural auxiliary after a sufficient number of farmers have joined and work in cooperation with the city organization much more good will be done for the county and the individual farmer.

A banquet is to be served on Wednesday night at which time reports of the various "Drive Delegations" will be received. Mr. Fred Bassett of Mt. Sterling has consented to be with us and will furnish plenty of laughter.

THE RED CROSS SPIRIT SPEAKS

By JOHN H. FINLEY.

I kneel behind the soldiers' trench
I walk with shambles' smear and stench
The dead I mourn,
I bear the stretcher and I bend
Over Sammy, Pierre and Jack and mend
What shells have torn.

I go wherever men may dare, I go wherever woman's care

And love can live.
Wherever strength and skill can bring
Surcease to human suffering
Or solace give.

I am your pennies and your pounds;
I am your bodies on their rounds
Of pain afar;

I am you, doing what you would
If you were only where you could—
Your avatar.

The cross which on my arm I wear,
The flag which o'er my breast I bear,
Is but the sign
Of what you'd sacrifice for him
Who suffers on the hellish rim
Of war's red line.

DEAD PARTY SLOGANS

President Wilson uttered a great truth in a recent letter to a meeting of Democrats. "The old party slogans have lost their significance," he declared, and it is true, especially as to the party of which he is the head. He might have been more detailed in his statement and pointed out that some of the old slogans of democracy have disappeared from the current of life, probably never again to reappear. At any rate their usefulness is impaired for some time to come. One of the favorite of these was: "The high cost of living is caused by the robber tariff." That was heard from every Democratic stump for many years. It will not be heard again. The people of the country know now that world-wide conditions make prices, not tariff duties.

Another favorite of the Democratic platform was: "The tariff is the mother of trusts." That, too, has passed into the discard. Business combinations are based on other things entirely than the tariff. The old Democratic cry against "Imperialism" has ceased. For a time it resounded throughout the land, and was raised as a bogey-man in every community. And now there ahs none to do it reverence. "Economy, retrenchment and Jeffersonian simplicity" is another slogan of the past. When Congress passed into Democratic control that cry ceased to exist on the part of victorious democracy. Appropriations were made as never before and economy became but a memory.

Gone, too, is the Democratic doctrine of "The sacred rights of sovereign States," and its partner, "The perils of centralization." Measures planned by President Wilson ran over them rough-shod. New laws wiped out State lines, authority was centralized at Washington even before the war cloud came, all by the act of the party that had so long shouted those slogans. As for the old-time favorite, "The crime of '73," that is now but a faint and far remembrance. Even the Democratic slogan of 1916, "He has kept us out of war," has been given up. President Wilson is right. His party slogans have lost not only their significance, but most of them their life as well. —Philadelphia Press.

WHEAT BREAD DISAPPEARING

White flour is getting to be a relic of bygone days. People have been doing without it so long that they have become quite satisfied with the privation. It used to be that you could not make bread without wheat flour, but now the very best is made without it. And the best pies, too. And the best griddle cakes, not excepting buckwheat, are made out of corn flour. And gingerbread made of barley flour—there is nothing in the gingerbread line half as good. So saving wheat for war purposes is serving the household with some real joys. If this wheatless business is kept up we will soon get so used to it that the wheat fields will go out of fashion and the loving substitutes will reign supreme in the household. And this change in the bread diet is not only going to help win the war, but, by introducing a diversified bread, is going to increase the health of the people.

CHILDREN KNOW US TOO WELL

(Farm Life)

The reason we cannot get along with our children is because they know us too well.

It is more than ordinary human nature can bear, to be lived with every day.

One has to be very great and wise and noble to spend ten hours a day with any human being and still love him.

The baffling complexity of the soul is too much for most of us, it confuses us, irritates us.

Of course, sickly and anaemic children are not much bother; they are quite simple.

But vigorous growing, intense children come upon us like perpetually new problems to be solved, new enigmas to be known, new knots to untangle.

And we are not great enough for it.

I know of no more striking proof of the superiority of woman over man, in real resources of character, than the fact that she manages tolerably well with a house full of little ones, and usually reigns their affection.

They would drive almost any man mad.

The cutting edge of the difficulty is that children make such extreme demands upon our mortal nature.

It would not be so hard if we could appear on the scene, tell them to be good and go away; but the trouble is when one has to stay with them; then there is nothing for it but to be good ourselves, which, you will admit, is nothing for it but to be good ourselves which, you will admit, is not easy.

And then, how they call upon our powers of self-control, how they demand of us almost superhuman strength of will, how they pull the nerve of patience!

And how also do they reveal to us our ignorance.

A child does not want to know anything; he wants to know everything. I do not wonder that small, selfish, pleasure-loving souls, who shrink from the struggle involved in nobleness, buy ease at any price, I do not wonder that such people want no children.

THE LINCOLN STATUES

(Washington Post)

"The Barnard statue of Lincoln is bolder, more rugged and more impressive than St. Gaudens' Lincoln, and, in my opinion, a better statue," said Jerome Connor, American sculptor, at the Willard. "Art critics in England and the United States have waged a controversy concerning the merits of these Lincoln statues since a commission in England rejected the Barnard for the St. Gaudens statue. The latter is soon to be presented to the city of London.

"Each of these sculptors was a master in his art," continued Mr. Connor, "and it is not a question of bad or inferior work; it is a question of the treatment of the subject. In Barnard's statue there is the indomitable spirit and will of the Lincoln of history; in St. Gaudens' there is the gentleness of heart and soul of the martyred President. So there is a difference in the treatment of the subject by the sculptors, and St. Gaudens' has the more pleasing, graceful lines of the two. But in carrying out his plan of treatment I think the execution is inferior to that of Barnard. A close study of the Barnard Lincoln at Cincinnati discloses that it is eloquent of power, of will and dominance; that the inspiration of the sculptor was all absorbing. Subconsciously one's mind larks back to those historic utterances of Lincoln in the darkest days of war voicing his determination, his invincible will, his patience in trials—all directed toward the ultimate victory he was to win. This, I take it, is the way Barnard rends his Lincoln, and he produced a stronger statue than St. Gaudens."

YOUNG MEN FOR WAR

(New York World)

Secretary Baker's testimony yesterday that the success of the war depends upon young men is in line with all military experience. Of the 2,778,301 enlistments at the North during the Civil War 844,891 were 17 years old or less and 2,159,798 were between 18 and 22. Members of the Union army were properly referred to as the "boys in blue."

It would hardly be fair to say that the best soldiers are youths, but it is undeniably true that in a given number of the population, such as conscription laws comprehend, more good soldiers will be found below 25 than above it. This is not due to physical strength alone. It proceeds also from spirit of generosity, idealism enterprise and the fighting instinct.

Every army needs middle-aged men either as a steady element in the ranks or as officers, and these are freely supplied in our case by volunteering. The objection that our youth is being exposed to disease, wounds and death is the argument that should sustain us in the struggle upon which we have entered, its purpose being to put an end to such tragedies forever.

AILMENTS OF WOMEN

There is no denying the fact that thousands of American women drag along day in and day out suffering with these ailments peculiar to their sex which make life a burden. If down pains, inflammation, necrosis or enteralgia conditions would only give that greatest of all remedies, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a trial, they would readily find relief from such suffering, as the many letters of commendation constantly being published prove.

EARN 14 CENTS A DAY; HAS WIFE AND BABY

And Yet This True Story Has a Happy Ending.

Even a Frenchman sometimes loses, for awhile at least, his "unfailing" sense of humor.

Take, for instance, the case of a man from Lille, a soldier, Weetelte by name and only twenty-three. He had done pretty well, for the youngster had already his own printing shop in that northern French town, which is still inside the German lines. In the trenches Weetelte developed tuberculosis, and he was sent to a hospital at Grenoble.

There he was considered incurable, and after the usual three months of treatment he was granted his 14 cents a day pension. Said his fatherly army doctor, "My son, you can perhaps cure yourself if you will live in the mountains, if you will eat plenty of nourishing food and, above all, if you don't worry."

Weetelte should have smiled, but he didn't. He was thinking of his baby and his wife—and his 14 cents. "Don't worry!" The humor of it entirely escaped him.

Then the Red Cross stepped in. He was found by an American woman with some American Red Cross money for just such cases, and within a few hours he no longer had need to worry. He was sent to the mountains in the French Alps, happy in the knowledge that his family was being cared for by these amazingly kind Americans.

And now the army doctor's words are coming true. Weetelte's lung is healing fast, and he is dreaming of another printing shop and of living again some day with that little family.

There have been over 400,000 new cases of tuberculosis in France since the war started, and to care for these cases and check the White Plague's spread is merely one of the big jobs the American Red Cross has set out to accomplish.

ITALIANS IN AMERICA WILL CELEBRATE THIRD ANNIVERSARY OF WAR 24 OF MAY

The Italians in America, with their celebration of the third anniversary of the war on the Twenty-fourth of May intend to make the Italian name more popular in America and the American name more popular in Italy.

Italy has the same ideals and the same aspirations as America. Our revolution, likewise that of America was inspired purely by national aspirations. Both revolutions represented two historical periods leading not to emancipation, but to emancipation of an entire people; they both gave to the two great communities their own fatherland and their own faith; both revolutions dedicated to the great nations the rights of liberty and self-government.

Italy and America have inherited from their respective revolutions the same political program, which holds them steadfast to their principles of liberty and democracy. Animated by such ideals, both countries entered this struggle on the side of the aggressor in order to protect themselves.

HIDDEN DANGERS

Nature Gives Timely Warnings That No Maysville Citizen Can Afford to Ignore.

DANGER SIGNAL NO. 1 comes from the kidney secretions. They will warn you when the kidneys are weak. Well kidneys excrete a clear, amber fluid. Weak kidneys send out a thin, pale and foamy, or a thick, red, ill-smelling urine, full of sediment and irregular of passage.

DANGER SIGNAL NO. 2 comes from the back. Back pains, dull and heavy, or sharp and acute, suggest weak kidneys and warn you of the danger of dropsy, gravel and Bright's disease. In that case Doan's Kidney Pills have been endorsed by thousands. Here is a statement of a nearby resident:

Jas. M. Newton, Gum, St., Aberdeen, Ohio, says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills off and on for several years and have been greatly benefited. Whenever my back has been weak or when my kidneys have been too frequent in action, I have used a box or so of Doan's Kidney Pills, which I get at Wood & Son's Drug Store. They have always relieved me in a short time."

The above is not an isolated case. Mr. Newton is only one of many in this vicinity who have gratefully endorsed Doan's. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mr. Newton had. 60¢ all stores. Foster-Milburn Co. Hen Raises Kitten

Hall Moss, of near town, was here Monday and told us a story which we leave you to consider. Hall says his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Mary Moss, some time ago set a hen on fifteen eggs and recently, thinking it was about time for her to hatch, went to see about it, and found under the hen among the eggs a small kitten, which the hen was clucking to just like she would to young chickens. Hall would not say whether he thought the hen hatched the kitten or not.—La Center Advocate.

Freak of Nature

Mrs. Olia Meyer, of this city, has been exhibiting a chicken with four bills, two heads and four eyes. The chile killed only a short time after being hatched.—Madisonville Hustler.

Wonderful Record

I am calling attention to the record made by a young lady of the Wardwell school. It is not our purpose at all to unnecessarily flatter the young lady, but to show what can be done by a student when he or she is determined to "do things." At the beginning of the 1917-18 term of the Wardwell public school Miss Alice Quarles entered school and was put to work in the fourth grade. But she didn't stay in that grade long. She completed that grade, and also the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades during the term, and last Friday and Saturday she applied for examination in the common school studies, the examination being conducted by the county Board of Examiners, and received a diploma which entitles her to enter the county High School. Not only did she pass the required examination, but she received the highest grade in the examination that was given and was complimented by the board on account of her achievement. Miss Alice is now preparing herself to take the examination for teacher in June, and if she succeeds, which she will be pretty apt to do, she will have a record of having gone from the fourth grade of the public school to the position of a teacher in less than a year. That is a record that any person can well be proud of, and we congratulate the young lady on her splendid success.

"KAMERAD"

Somewhere in France at a point where American troops are holding a section of the trenches a German soldier was seen nearing the front lines. He was alone, and when discovered he held up his hands, yelling "Kamerad!" But the soldiers were suspicious of him and made him keep his hands up until they surrounded him. They found that he was loaded down with hand grenades. He tried to escape but was caught.

He is a personification of the German peace drive—advancing with deceptively friendly manner, shouting "Kamerad!" but with his pockets full of explosives. His estimate of our intelligence must be low if he really believes we are to be so easily fooled.

THE EMBLEM OF HUMAN MERCY

By SAMUEL GOMPERS

The Red Cross is an emblem typifying human mercy and sympathy. Its mission to relieve physical pain and minister to mind and body has given it a place deep in the hearts of all our people. For those whose dear ones are in places of great danger it is a comfort to know that the American Red Cross is performing more effective service on a larger scale than ever before.

In addition to serving our enlisted forces, it is assisting in the work of civil relief among our allies whose soil is being devastated by the fighting.

Thus the Red Cross is helping to interpret the constructive spirit of our Republic which holds sacred human life and the ideals it seeks. As time goes on the scope of the work of the Red Cross in Europe will increase in order that the organization may meet the demands that will be made upon it. It must receive the full and hearty support of the American people. It is only through such an agency that we can be assured relief and necessary ministrations to our young men forming our military force.

It is my sincere desire that adequate funds will be secured for the work of the Red Cross.

Newest Devices of Surgery For Our Wounded Soldiers

Nitrous Oxide and Fluoroscope at Hand to Give American Wounded All Chance in World.

The best is none too good for the wounded American soldier. That is the Red Cross idea. The minute science finds an improvement in surgery it is adopted in the Red Cross army hospitals, which are models of up-to-the-instant completeness.

This fact is vividly emphasized in a recent news dispatch from Reginald Wright Kaufman, author of "The House of Bondage." Kaufman had been allowed to accompany a badly wounded friend into the operating room:

"Come on," said the interne, "your friends are in there. He's about played out; can't stand chloroform or ether. Get to give him nitrous oxide."

"I knew that for a patient whose resistance has been diminished the difference between the old anesthetics and this new one is frequently the difference between life and death, but I also knew that nitrous oxide is not on our army list and that no supplies existed a year ago in France.

"The Red Cross has put up a plan here," explained the interne. "He opened a door. Bill lay on the operating room:

"He can see what he's after before he gets started," my guide exulted, "and if he overlooks any shell fragments there is a magnetic contrivance that sounds a buzzer when he gets near them."

"It would be all right, they told me. Thanks to the fluoroscope and the nitrous oxide, a stay here under treatment and then a rest at one of the Red Cross convalescent camps by the seaside would fit Bill for a return to the trenches."

We will be pleased to serve you at our fountain or to send you what you want when you want it wherever you may be.

FORMER PASTOR

Of Third Street M. E. Church Will Be Here Sunday, June 2.

Maysville and the Third Street M. E. Church is to be honored a week from next Sunday, June 2, with a visit of a former pastor of over a half century ago. Recently Rev. S. K. Hunt received a letter from Rev. J. R. Reasoner of Urbana, Ill., telling him of his pastorate at the Third Street street in 1863 and stating that he intended to make a visit East about Decoration Day and would be glad to stop over and visit the old town and church once more. Rev. Hunt at once replied, inviting him to preach at the old church on Sunday of his visit here. In accepting the invitation Rev. Reasoner writes, "I shall be glad to have all of the old and new soldiers present at our services."

Mr. and Mrs. Reasoner and their daughter will come by way of West Union, Ohio, the place of birth, and where he expects to spend Decoration Day. They will arrive in Maysville on Saturday. He writes further "As it will be too much of an imposition to ask you to furnish entertainment for so much of a 'mob', will you kindly find us a boarding house or hotel where we can stop over. If no such provision can be made, we might climb the hill, and 'camp out' as Chester plaster and I did one night when 'Pete' Everett's 400 guerrillas came to Maysville after my head; but I am still wearing the same old head."

From Maysville they will proceed to Washington City to visit their son who is in command of Military Medical Depot. He is to preach in Mt. Vernon church, New York City, one Sunday while in the East. We are sure many of our older people will remember Rev. Reasoner and will be glad to hear him.

"BILL" LAVELLE IS ON COIT-ALBER CHAUTAUQUA PROGRAM
The Coit-Alber Chautauqua Association has kindly consented to send one of their best speakers on Community Work in the person of Mr. William G. Lavelle.

He is commonly known as "Bill" Lavelle and some of his best talks are "Looking Through Life's Telescope, Man Holes, Frame-Ups and College Chimes I've Met on the Bower."

He has had quite a career as newspaper reporter, editor, lawyer, police judge, federal employer, traveler and lecturer. In these widely divergent fields he has gained the material for his talks—clean invigorating, full of good cheer, sound in thought, classic in construction and human in appeal.
